

We're Shaping the Future, One Successful Collaboration at a Time

DBIA is where design-build excellence is built, taught and shared. Our wealth of resources allows you to learn, collaborate and translate Design-Build Done Right® best practices into career and business opportunities. These are just a few.

Best Practices Primers & Contract Documents

Practicing Design-Build Done Right® is the key to project success. You can find all of our free best practices primers and our design-build contract documents in our bookstore at store.dbia.org.

Design-Build Certification

As the design-build industry grows, so does the need for qualified professionals who practice Design-Build Done Right®. Being a DBIA Designated Design-Build Professional™ identifies you as a trained design-build pro. dbia.org/getcertified

Design-Build Done Right® Education

DBIA offers the nation's only Design-Build Done Right® education. DBIA instructors are industry experts who bring decades of real-world design-build experience to their courses, ensuring you leave with the "how-to" strategies and techniques needed for successful design-build projects. dbia.org/courses

DBIA Membership

DBIA members power industry transformation and you can too. Join as an individual, industry partner, owner, young professional, student or academia. dbia.org/join

Connect

We bring together every member of a design-build team to foster the collaboration that powers industry transformation. There are many ways to connect with the DBIA community and stay on top of the latest design-build news.
