

COLLABORATIVE DELIVERY LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

Elevating Leaders — Optimizing Outcomes

DESIGN-BUILD INSTITUTE OF AMERICA

A partnership between DBIA and Barbara Jackson, LLC

The rapid growth of design-build presents the need for leaders who can deftly navigate the unique landscape of collaborative project delivery. Projections show that nearly half of all construction spending will be design-build by 2026, so building a strong foundation of leadership is vital to keeping up with that trend.

DBIA's Collaborative Delivery Leadership Academy is designed to equip AEC professionals with the leadership skills and mindset needed to successfully make the mental shift from a segregated services approach to an integrated one. The Academy elevates the capacity and capability of individual team members to create optimized solutions that translate into project outcomes that consistently exceed expectations.

What Makes This Leadership Program Different?

The Academy will clearly distinguish leadership in a collaborative environment from leadership in traditional settings through six different learning modules — Leadership, Communication, Trust, Mindset, Teaming and Culture — each course is focused on a distinct component of the Design-Build Done Right® Leadership model. Throughout the program, participants will learn important concepts that can apply to all collaborative project delivery models, not just design-build.

Who Is It For?

This is designed for people serious about leveraging the many benefits and advantages that can be delivered using the Design-Build Done Right® model. Understanding that leadership must happen at every level because it impacts every aspect of the team's performance and results, the Academy is for every member of the design-build team, regardless of their role, discipline or expertise.

How Do I Get Started?

Start by registering for the prerequisite foundational course in the series (dates on page 2), "Leadership – Building a Strong Foundation." This course explores the crucial competencies for effective leadership in Design-Build, summarizes what the Academy is all about and why the five follow-on modules are vital to Design-Build Done Right® Leadership.

Once the prerequisite course is successfully completed, you can register for the remaining five modules in any order that works with your schedule. A combination of in-person and virtual courses are offered with sessions ranging from four to eight hours. You have two years to complete all six courses. To register for 2024 courses, visit education.dbia.org/leadership_academy. Registration for 2025 courses will open in Fall 2024. Questions? Contact education@dbia.org

What Happens Upon Completion of the Academy?

Upon successful completion of all six courses in the Academy, you will be issued a digital badge to demonstrate your accomplishment. This digital badge, which is managed, verified and shared online, can be displayed in social media profiles, embedded in email signatures and incorporated into digital resumes as an indicator of your leadership skills acquisition. While this badge alone will be valuable, combining it with your DBIA Certified Professional credentials will truly distinguish you as a design-build leader.
